NRL Referees
Col Pearce Medal 2014

WELCOME

Welcome to the 2014, 11th annual awarding of refereeing's most prestigious prize, the Col Pearce Medal, which occurs at the culmination of the closest NRL season in history. As we are all aware, the closer any competition is, the greater the level of scrutiny on match officials and their performances. This season has been no different.

The start of the season witnessed a new manager of the squad with Daniel Anderson moving to take up an opportunity as the General Manager of Football at Parramatta. As with any change of leadership this brings some level of apprehension and concern.

All officials should be very proud of their efforts, dedication and commitment to the season. At the season launch early this year, I spoke about these qualities and I am confident to say that those in the squad delivered on them. For that I thank you.

No official is successful without the wonderful support of their family and close friends. I thank all the partners for the support in the endless hours that the referees were away from home. Additionally, for those times when they were at home but distracted by the demands of officiating at the elite level.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my staff for their unbelievable support and hard work throughout the season. Your contribution to the success of the squad this year is immeasurable.

As in any season, individuals and the group have had highs and lows but one of the most significant improvements was the level of support that the NRL Referee squad received from the NRL hierarchy including Nathan McGuirk, Todd Greenberg and Dave Smith as well as the NRL Commission. It was refreshing to see members of the NRL Commission in dressing rooms after matches, as well as members of the NRL Executive team.

Every season witnesses those at the start of their pursuit of officiating at the highest level and those who are putting closure on wonderful careers. For those who will not be with us on field next season, I thank you for your contribution.

The Col Pearce medal was first instituted by Robert Finch after he identified that there was little history, recognition or reward for the best referee in the NRL in any given season. To fully comprehend the significance of this medal, you need to look no further than the name of it.

Col Pearce's on field record speaks for itself, included 343 First grade games, Six Grand Finals, Nine Test Matches and Three World Cup matches. But most importantly, he spent countless years coaching, mentoring and developing referees so that they could all achieve the same wonderful experiences that he did through refereeing rugby league. He is the Doyen of Referees.

We are all thankful to have the presence of Col's wife, May and her family and friends. We also welcome Brian Barry as a special guest, a grand final touch judge who officiated on-field with Col.

Please enjoy the event and on behalf of the management of the NRL Referees Squad, I congratulate the NYC Referee of the year, the Clubman of the Year, The Touch Judge of the Year and Col Pearce Medal Winner.

Enjoy the day and see you in season 2015.

Referees Bow Out "Full-Time" For Pearce, Bradley

Shock announcement this week was from Referee Col Pearce, notifying his retirement from the field.

This came only a few days after another senior referee, Jack Bradley, had informed officials that he had decided to step down.

The double retirement is serious to the N.S.W. Rugby League, as Messrs. Pearce and Bradley were the two most experienced referees still operating.

Col Pearce has private and business reasons for taking his step.

COL PEARCE

He said the question of physical fitness did not come into it.

Col has been a graded referee for 23 years. In all, he had the whistle in 513 matches.

He was immensely proud of his appointment to share with Referee John Percival, of Auckland, the World Championship fixtures last year.

He seemed to reach the pinnacle of his career on a wild, wet Sunday in Auckland, when, on a field in shocking condition, he controlled the torrid Great Britain v France game — and was warmly praised by both teams.

Col's gentlemanly manner on and off the field won him respect. As a referee he was unobtrusive, but firm.

He was warmly praised by League authorities.

N.S.W. Rugby League president, Mr. W. G. Buckley, said:

"Col Pearce has been a very fine referee, ranking with our greatest of all time.

"What's more, he was one of the finest characters the game has had."

Col was chairman of the Referees' Examination Board last year; he is a member of the League's Coaching Panel. His services have been in demand as a lecturer on the rules of the game.

Jack Bradley, a former first grade five-eighth with Canterbury-Bankstown, also had a notable career.

He had the first grade grand final in 1962. He refereed all three Tests against New Zealand in 1963 and the first against Great Britain in 1966.

Mr. Buckley said at Monday night's meeting that Jack Bradley's retirement meant a distinct loss to the game.

"He was a strong character and a very fine referee, he said.
